Think WTMC Today

You know that education is the key to a meaningful and successful life, but you need a pathway to learning that takes into account your unique interests, abilities and dreams. Your tomorrow depends on it.

Think WTMC today. Our middle college program blends high school and college academics with life management skills to help you meet and exceed your professional and personal goals. Completion of a WCC technical certificate and/or associate's degree is a graduation requirement. You earn your high school diploma as you demonstrate your skill acquisition and success in full-time college coursework, all without the cost of tuition.

Big Learning Opportunities

A Michigan Public School Academy chartered by and housed on the Washtenaw Community College campus, WTMC emphasizes accumulating skills rather than credits. It gives you access to a breadth and depth of coursework and technology that reaches far beyond the scope of a traditional high school. If you've completed the equivalency of ninth or tenth grade and meet the admission criteria, WTMC offers you big learning opportunities in classrooms with instructors who know and care about you.

Your progress at WTMC depends on realistic planning and consistent achievement in academic skills that meet and surpass Michigan Merit Curriculum standards. You'll join and find support among other WTMC students, the highest academically performing group on the WCC campus.

Equally important to your success is your proven ability in life management skills:

- Attendance
- Preparation
- Communication
- Follow-up; and
- Responsibility.

Guidance, Direction and Encouragement

As a WTMC student, you'll have teachers, a dean and a staff who know your name. They'll challenge you and advocate for you, work with you and for you. A BASE advisor, an instructor who will serve as your mentor and educational anchor throughout your WTMC career, will help you:

- Evaluate your strengths and interests;
- Focus on your future goals and make them specific;
- Choose the best educational option for you from WCC's many and diverse programs; and
- Meet your program objectives with guidance, direction and encouragement.
